

Thought Paralysis: The Virtues of Discrimination (2013, Karnac)

Farhad Dalal

Chapter Headings

1. Introduction: Thought Paralysis

An anxiety and a caution

Two short stories with a moral

A culture of fear – another short story

In search of Obamaland

The celebrators of Diversity

Two caveats and their consequences

Tiptoe through the minefield of taboos

Good guys and Bad guys

Thought Impasse

Overview and Outline

2. The Struggle to live and let live: The liberal world view

The Enlightenment: Blind to difference

The Romantics: Champions of Difference

Born to be Free (sort of)

Anti Discriminatory Legislation

Privacy

Ownership

The entry of culture

Multiculturalism – a spectator sport

Anti-racism – the doer and the done-to

Psychology explaining sociology

Projection

Diversity – party time

Reprise: the two conflictual versions of liberalism

3. Equal Strokes for Different Folks: The Legislature

Different Strokes for Different Folks

Race in the Legislature

The curious case of the missing definition

How the first 'race' came to be created

Divide and Rule

Discrimination – without favour.

A very short history of race legislation in Britain

Brixton – The Scarman Report

Stephen Lawrence – The Macpherson Report

No Racism, No problem.

The Unconscious and Institutional Racism

Dangerous Discretion – proceduralizing decision making

The Sleeping Policemen solution.

4. Manufacturing Kinds of People: processes of inclusion and exclusion

Three Questions about the Kinds of Humans

The Problem with Race

Sociobiology

The Problem with Culture (and Ethnicity)

The illusion of unity

The Myth of consensual coherence – The Holy Cow

The myth called community

Differences in the service of differentiation.

One individual, many cultures

Cultures as discriminating moral orders

5. The Human Condition: Psychology

In the Beginning...

Desire and Duty: two readings of a conflict

The Humanistic Traditions – conflict between inside and outside

The Psychoanalytic Traditions – Internalised conflict

Social Individuals

The Paradox of Belonging

Identity

The 'I' and the 'We'

Differences not all in the mind

Creating Types of People

The Othering process: dividing, forgetting, splitting

The physics of empathy and responsibility

Thinking about Thinking

6. Counting Discriminations

Every Picture Tells a Story

Statistics – the Weapon of Choice

Paradigm Shift – From Innocence to Guilt

Search and destroy missions – the general and specific duties

The Bureaucratization of Identity – counting subjectivities

Limited freedoms, constrained choices

Hawkeye – the Manipulation of Statistics

Confusions and Conflations: The Race-Ethnicity Fudge

The manufacture of objectivity out of subjectivities

Reproducing Racialized thinking

7. Corrupting the Liberal Ideal – Diversity in Organizational Life

Spreadsheet Ethics

Diversity Peddlers

Henry: New Taxonomies of human kind generated by the bottom line.

Ethnic marketing – instrumentalizing the ‘ethnics’

Recruitment & Retention –worshipping the ‘ethnics’

Thiederman: ‘Natural’ attractions and repulsions

Close encounters with diversity of the second kind

The Portrait of the Other

Making allowances

8. Perverting the liberal ideal – Fear and Control in the Panopticon

The Worker as castrated Kantian being

Equal opportunities as control mechanism

Errors and misdemeanours

9. The Difference that Dare not Speak its Name – the Lexicon Police

Training the Mind

Diversity Management as an exercise in Etiquette.

The first slip: from unfair discrimination to discrimination

Un-thinking Categories and Differentials

The nature of language

Performance vs. Practice

- . Natural and Artificial Groups
- . Removing vs. Transforming Words
- . Names and Name calling

One Signifier and Three Significations

Life savers and coffee drinkers

- . The visible made invisible
- . Being offensive vs. Causing offence
- . The Fallacy of the Superior Virtue of the Oppressed

Action Paralysis

10. The Vicissitudes of Discrimination

The predicament

The Equal Opportunities Interview

Quotas and Targets

Proceduralization: the erosion of responsibility

Perverting Procedures

The rationality of the emotions

Diversity as solution to the individual's partisan mind (and heart)

Processes of Institutionalisation – the further erosion of responsibility

Now you see me, now you don't: the vicissitudes of institutional racism

Lineage and Typology

11. Islam: The New Black

Projection

Riding the Tiger

The Spiritual is Political

12. Tolerating Discrimination: Discriminatory Tolerance

The Politics of Tolerance

Degrees of Tolerance

The Psychology of Tolerance

Three (unhelpful) Ways of Dissolving the Tension between Authenticity and Fairness

Live and leave well alone: The Unwashed

A Corrective: From cultural difference to racism

On (Not) Tolerating the Intolerant

On (Not) Tolerating the Intolerable

Grasping the Nettle: Validity despite relativity

Engagement vs. Recognition: the exchange of ideological fluids

13. Conceptual cul-de-sacs – the road to nowhere

Celebrating Diversity – Apartheid by another Route

Culturalism: Respect no antidote to racism

Devaluing the Values of Diversity

Rationality – the villain of the piece?

Pity the Difference

In conclusion

References